2024 British U14/U16 Alpine Championships
Revised Entry Criteria

The regulations for this event are owned by GB Snowsport, which has always adhered to the premise that this is the flagship event of the season, and one which should be an aspirational target for our young athletes, and the seed-point cut-off is a means of differentiating the British Alpine Championships from other BASS events.

This event has therefore always had a cut-off for entry, which for many years was set at 250, as described in the BCR. During and after COVID this was suspended in recognition of the lack of racing available, particularly for the U14 age group, with the intention that it would be re-introduced at an appropriate time and level.

After a further review and pending more in-depth discussions of the objectives of this competition and its place in the British Alpine calendar, the Organising Committee has decided to suspend the seed point cut-off for these Championships for a further year.

Entries will therefore now be accepted from any athlete registered with a UK Home Nation (England, Scotland or Wales) for Alpine competition. Coaches and parents should still recognise that this is a Championship event, with courses set appropriately, and should be mindful of the ability of their athletes when entering the event. In addition, race juries reserve the right to remove competitors from a race on safety grounds, should that prove necessary.

The OC reserves the right to re-introduce the cut-off for entry in the future and this will be reviewed, and the level of cut-off will be published by the end of July in the year prior to the Championships.
