Scottish Alpine Student Championships 2025

Cancelled

Thanks again to those of you who have entered this year's Student Championships in 2025 - it was our biggest entry numbers in the 4 years we have organised the championships.

Unfortunately, in what is on-track to be Scotland's worst snowsports season ever, there is very little snow on the mountain, nor in the forecast, and more warm weather on the way. Despite the funicular at Cairngorm Mountain having reopened, we will be unable to run the championships this year, so SASC 2025 is officially cancelled.

As is standard for most Alpine events, and as noted in the original invitation, our entry fees are non-refundable. However, this year we are able to offer almost a full refund to all. We still have fixed costs involved in running SASC (the company) and organising the championships, so in order to cover some of these costs, we are retaining £2 of every entry. The Scottish Alpine Student Committee CIC will still make a loss this year, however this will help us to minimise this loss and ensure we can commit to organising the event in future years.

You will receive a full refund, minus £2 per entry, back to the card used for payment. This will take 5-10 days to appear in your account, according to our payment processor.

Any queries should be directed to info@sasc-snowsports.co.uk. We hope to see you all back in 2026.
