The Start Order

The start order for each race is based on the latest Nations Cup standings. Each racer begins the first race of each season with zero Nations Cup Points, and as a result, the start lists for the first event of each season are randomly drawn for each category.

From Round 2 onwards, the Jury utilise the most recent Nations Cup Points list available to determine the start list. Using the Nations Cup Points system allows racers from all nations to be integrated into a performance based start list. This allows for a high quality international event where racers from all nations can compete on a level playing field, without quota or seeding.

Start Order for Technical Events

Run 1

In each category, the 15 racers with the best Nations Cup Points will be randomly drawn at the beginning of the start list in a first group . From there, any other racers with points will start in descending Nations Cup Points order in a second group. Any racers without Nations Cup Points will be randomly draw in a third group at the end of the start list. This procedure will be followed for both genders in U10s, U12s, U14s and U16s independently.

Run 2

For U10s and U12s, the start order for run 2 will be a full reverse of the start order from run 1. Racers in the U10/U12 category always have two runs in the technical events.

For U14s and U16s, the top 30 racers in each category after the first run will start run 2 in reverse time order using a “top 30 flip”. Racers placed 31st onwards will then start in the second run ascending time order. U14 and U16 racers must complete their first run in order to have a second. In the event there are less than 30 racers in the second run, this may be reduced to a “top 15 flip”.

Start Order for Speed Events

For speed events, the Nations Cup joins U10s and U12s together in one race, and U14s and U16s together in another, splitting the field by gender. The Nations Cup Points for each category will have equal weight when determining the start order (i.e. a U14 racer will start ahead of a U16 racer if they have better Nations Cup Points, regardless of the age category). The start list will then be drawn in the same format as the technical events, beginning with a top 15 random draw, followed by racers in descending cup points order, followed by a random draw for those racers without Nations Cup Points. After the race, Nations Cup points are still allocated by each gender and category as per the rules.
